MOTION TO STRIKE OPPOSERS' REPLY BRIEF AS UNTIMELY AND EXCEEDING THE PAGE LIMITATION

I. Introduction

Opposers filed their Reply Brief after the deadline set by 37 CFR §2.128(a)(1). It is untimely. Opposers' untimely Reply Brief also exceeds the 25-page limitation set by 37 CFR §2.128(b). The Board states that "[i]f a party files a brief that exceeds the page limit, but does not file a timely motion for leave to file such a brief, the brief will be stricken, without leave to file a substitute brief that meets the limit" and also that "if a brief on the case ... violates the length limit ... it may be stricken, or given no consideration, by the Board." TBMP §§ 537, 539. Applicant accordingly moves to strike Opposers' untimely and too long Reply Brief.

II. The Board Should Strike Opposers' Reply Brief As Untimely

The Rules provide that "[a] reply brief by the party in the position of plaintiff, if filed, shall be due not later than fifteen days after the due date of the defendant's brief." 37 CFR

§2.128(a)(1). Defendant's (Applicant's) brief deadline was May 23, 2013. Fifteen days after May 23, 2013, was June 7, 2013. Thus, Opposers had until Friday June 7, 2013, to file their Reply Brief. But, they did not file or serve their Reply Brief until Monday June 10, 2013. See the "Filing date" of Opposers' Reply Brief and the appended Certificate of Service.

As Opposers failed to timely file and serve their Reply Brief, the Board should refuse to consider it and should strike it from the record.

III. The Board Should Strike Opposers' Reply Brief For Exceeding The Page Limitations Without Permission

A Reply Brief may be only 25 pages, including the table of contents, index of cases etc.

Opposers' Reply Brief totals 27 pages. As the Board states: "it is only with the Board's permission, timely sought, that a brief exceeding the page limit will be entertained." TBMP 537.

Opposers' Reply Brief is too long and they lack permission from the Board to file an over length Reply Brief. Their Reply Brief should be stricken.

Under the Rules:

[b]riefs must be submitted in written form and must meet the requirements prescribed in § 2.126. Each brief shall contain an alphabetical index of cases cited. Without prior leave of the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board, a main brief on the case shall not exceed fifty-five pages in length in its entirety, including the table of contents, index of cases, description of the record, statement of the issues, recitation of the facts, argument, and summary; and a reply brief shall not exceed twenty-five pages in its entirety." 37 CFR §2.128(b) (emphasis added).

Plaintiff's Main Brief Defendant's Main Brief Plaintiff's Reply Brief April 23, 2013 May 23, 2013 June 7, 2013

¹ Defendant's deadline requires calculation from the end of Plaintiff's 15-day Rebuttal Period. In that regard, the Board's November 30, 2012, set a schedule where Plaintiff's 15-day Rebuttal Period ended on February 22, 2013. Under 37 CFR § 2.128(a), Plaintiff's main brief was due not later than 60 days after the date set for the close of the rebuttal testimony period; Defendant's main brief was due not later than 30 days after the due date of the Plaintiff's main brief; and Plaintiff's reply brief was due not later than 15 days after the due date of the Defendant's main brief. Calculating the deadlines from the Board's order of November 30, 2012, results in the following deadlines:

Despite this rule, Opposers' brief includes 4 pages of a table of contents and index of cases numbered i-iv along with 23 numbered pages of argument. That is 27 pages when only 25 are allowed.

Opposers could have filed a motion for leave to exceed the page limit, but they did not.

Opposers perhaps did not ask for permission because the TMBP notes that "[m]otions for leave to file a brief on the case in excess of the page limit are disfavored by the Board and rarely granted." TMBP §537. In any event, since Opposers lack permission for their over length filing, and the Board states that it will not entertain a brief exceeding the page limitations unless the filer has "the Board's permission, timely sought" - the Board should strike the Reply Brief and not consider it. TBMP § 537. See American Optical Corp. v. Atwood Oceanics, Inc., 177 USPQ 585 (Comm'r 1973) (refusing to consider a too long brief).

IV. Conclusion

Opposers filed too long of a Reply Brief too late. The Board should grant Applicant's motion to strike the Reply Brief and not consider it.
